

My son was an avid sucker when he was an infant. Sucking helped him soothed to sleep, hey, whatever works, right! He use to suck on a pacifier and it drove me crazy when he would take it out of his mouth and down went the pacifier onto the nasty city streets. Well, I don't have to worry about the pacifier anymore, but I found a great item that is cute, stylish, and very helpful for any baby sucking on a "binkie". Bella Tunno makes fun, fresh design products from diaper pads to the "binker" (binkie holder). A very cute shefindsmom find at www.bellatunno.com
